

The U.S. Government Threat Report: Teleworkers Exposed to Heightened Mobile Risk

Mobile devices have unlocked previously untapped potential for your organization, enabling your employees to work however and from wherever they're the most productive.

But they also now have the same access to your infrastructure as traditional endpoints. As a result, cyberattackers have built strategies to target both mobile devices and desktops to ensure they find vulnerable entry points into your infrastructure.

To understand the challenges facing U.S. government agencies, we looked at data specific to our federal, state and local customers from the Lookout Security Graph.
