

Preparing for Trade Compliance Audits Post-COVID

Preparing for Trade Compliance Audits Post-COVID:

Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, government audits on trade compliance departments have changed significantly in many jurisdictions, in some cases even coming to a halt. But as a sense of normalcy returns to global trade, that reprieve is coming to an end, and companies should expect and prepare for an increase in the quantity and type of trade compliance audits worldwide.