

Cloud First – Data Driven Reinvention

Cloud – no longer a remote set of services in the ether – now spans from the edge to AI. This evolution of the cloud is accelerating business value by enabling easy, fast access to data, all while providing the governance and security businesses require.

Join Drew Allan, Accenture and David Vellante, Co-host, theCUBE in this executive session to hear how Accenture’s “Cloud First” approach is helping businesses adopt a hybrid data strategy that increases flexibility and agility and creates new growth opportunities, while leveraging existing infrastructure deployments.
